Digital Workspace

Powered by Microsoft 365

Digital transformations are rewriting today's business landscapes with new risks and opportunities. In a world of accelerated change, organizations look for solutions that promote collaboration and mobility. At the same time, businesses are facing challenges to protect and secure not only privacy and data, but also apps and devices owned by their clients.

Marketplace and digital trends are influential in shaping the way we work and do business in the modern world. According to Forrester Consulting, 41 percent of employees spend more time away from their office than they did two years ago. Whether you are on the road or in an office, you need workspaces that simplify collaboration with local and remote colleagues. You probably also want a fun and engaging experience with real-time interaction.

Digital disruption impacts business landscapes with new possibilities and prospects to assist those affected by disruption. With rapid transformations in our modern world, organizations need new solutions for issues revolving around collaboration and mobility. Microsoft's Cyber Defense Operations Center reports that in 2016 alone, more than three billion customer records were breached globally. Cyberattacks have become gradually more aggressive and sophisticated, spurring a demand for new protection strategies.

Enterprise Mobility + Security provides a centralized way to safeguard apps and data on-premises, in the cloud, and across devices.

Gain identity-driven security

Businesses can protect data anywhere by streamlining identity management across the datacenter and the cloud. Identity-driven security protects your organization with secure single sign-on, multi-factor authentication, and risk-based conditional access to control who can access the data with granular conditional factors.

Build Teamwork

A team has its own communication needs and workstyle. A team in modern business is spread across geographical regions, but with Hitachi Solutions Digital Workspace, everyone can collaborate more effectively with team chats, online meetings, group email, and a social network regardless of the region they are in.

It's simple to create, share, and find content, too. You can co-author documents in real time with Office apps and OneDrive for Business and use SharePoint to store and share documents with people inside and outside your organization.

Manage mobile devices and apps

Enable employees to use their favorite devices and work from anywhere, anytime while you gain peace of mind. Now businesses can securely manage apps, content and data on iOS, Android, and Windows devices from a single portal. This allows organizations to seamlessly perform management tasks entirely in the cloud or on-premises through integration with System Center Configuration Manager.
